

THE WHITE HOUSE AUTOMOBILES

Will Have the Right of Way Throughout the District of Columbia.

THEY WILL KNOW NO SPEED LIMIT.

New Terms to Be Used Hereafter Will Be "The President's Auto Car" and "The President's Chauffeur"—Two Fine New Machines Purchased—The White House Combination Garage and Stable.

Washington, March 7.—No longer will the terms, "the president's car" and "the president's driver" be in vogue, for with the new administration comes the terms, "the president's auto car" and "the president's chauffeur." Automobiles will be almost the exclusive method of locomotion by President Taft and his family. The White house will have the right of way throughout the District of Columbia and will know no speed limit.

Two Fine New Machines. Two fine new machines have already been purchased with the $12,000 appropriated by congress for this purpose and Mr. Taft has given them a thorough trial. One is a good weather machine, a big touring car with detachable top, and painted in dark green with green shades. The other car has a limousine body, painted black, and was purchased for the use of Mrs. Taft.

Chauffeur Gets $100 a Month. Both bear on each door the coat of arms of the United States. The cars are in charge of experts sent from the factories, who will be in the official White house chauffeur who is to be appointed later and who will receive a salary of $100 per month. The White house garage will be in the present stables used for the president's horses and carriages. Hereafter the stables will be a combination garage and horse stable. Besides the two automobiles they will quarter seven horses which will be at the disposal of the president and his family, his assistants and for other uses by the executive officers. At present there are thirteen horses quartered in the stables and six of these will be turned over to the quartermaster's department of the army. Roosevelt's saddle horses have been sold except his jumper "Bowling" and Mrs. Roosevelt's saddle horse. These will spend the rest of their days in Oyster Bay.

Saddle Horses for the Family. The only horses which will be used by President Taft and his family will be the new saddle horse recently purchased in Virginia. This will be the president's, and any saddle horse required by the other members of the family. The Taft family's first Sunday in White House. No business callers seen—President takes twelve mile ride.

Washington, March 7.—Democratic simplicity characterized the first Sunday in the White House of the Taft family. President Taft, accompanied by his brother, Charles P. Taft, walked to the United States Capitol in the morning and returned to the White House by the city car. The president's car was not used. The president's car was not used. The president's car was not used.

Twelve Mile Horseback Ride. After service the president accompanied his brother on foot to the White House. The president's car was not used. The president's car was not used. The president's car was not used.

President Taft saw no callers who had business to transact during the day, thus beginning his administration with the maxim that Sunday should be a day of rest.

First Lady of the Land Assumes Her Duties. Mrs. Taft makes some changes in administration of Executive Mansion. Washington, March 7.—Mrs. William Howard Taft, first lady of the land, has assumed duties without public ceremony or oath of office, which, in weight of responsibility, public life, and importance, surpasses any other position in the United States.

Some Minor Changes. It was from this intimacy to which she added a thorough discussion and mature consideration that Mrs. Taft has reached her own conclusions, and is already making the minor changes in the administration of the executive mansion necessary to meet her own ideas.

Uniformed Police Officers and Doorkeepers Removed. That these ideas will meet with general approval when they are understood is a confident prediction. The addition of the executive office building permits of an entire department of the official business of the president from the White house proper, and the facility is to be availed of to the fullest extent. That the main entrance of the White house may be used as nearly as possible the appearance of a private residence, the uniformed police officers and doorkeepers have been removed.

Inauguration Visitor Killed

POLICE REGARD THE CASE AS ONE OF COLD-BLOODED MURDER

BODY FOUND SNOW COVERED

Near Alexandria—Ragged Wound in Neck—Cash and Gold Watch Found in Pockets—No Clue.

Washington, March 7.—The body of a man, dressed in a dark overcoat, with snow, an dith a ragged wound in the neck, was found today near Alexandria, Va., a short distance from Washington.

In the pockets of the clothing were a traveler's check for $500 issued by the Wells Fargo Express company at Los Angeles, payable to Walter P. Schuler, a card bearing the same name but with an address of 1214 Douglas street, St. Louis, and another card which bears the name of Mrs. Alma Hume Gillette.

Motive for the Crime Lacking. The police regard the case as one of cold blooded murder. A motive for the murder is lacking and the identity of the man is by no means complete. Carried, and other papers found in the victim's clothing are believed to have been placed there by his slayer.

It is not believed that the case is one of suicide, because of the character of the wound and the fact that no weapon of any sort was found near the body. The police also assert that it is improbable that the man was a fugitive, for $28 in cash and a gold watch were found in the pockets of the victim.

The exact cause of the murder is not known. One theory is that the murdered man was an inauguration visitor who was lured away from the city and murdered. His body was found in a field, about four hundred yards from the Alexandria railroad station. The authorities believe they will establish the identity of the victim from a letter, without envelop, evidently belonging to the dead man. It was dated "St. Louis, Mo., December 30," and signed "J. S. A. and W. C. W."

The dead man was apparently 35 years old and his appearance was that of a prosperous business man.

Dived 30 Feet From Window

OF HOSPITAL WHERE HE HAD BEEN UNDER TREATMENT.

UNITED STATES NAVAL OFFICER

Sustains Serious Fracture of Collarbone and Brain Concussion—Lieut. Commander Read.

Washington, March 7.—Lieutenant Commander James H. Read, U. S. N., leaped today from a second story window of the naval hospital, where for two weeks he had been under treatment, and was seriously if not fatally injured. That he escaped instant death is considered by the hospital surgeons as remarkable.

Took a Running Jump. Lieutenant Commander Read sent his nurse from the room for a glass of water. The attendant had hardly left the room when he sprang from the window, striking his head on the ground, thirty feet below. He was picked up by a semi-conscious condition and hurried to the operating room. The attending surgeon discovered that aside from lacerations on the face and head, the officer had suffered a serious fracture of the collarbone and concussion of the brain.

Read is 35 years of age, a native of Baltimore and received his appointment in the naval service from the state of Maryland. He had been on sick leave since October 1907.

NO COAL STRIKE IS EXPECTED.

Distinctly Better Feeling in Hard Coal Field Regarding Result of Negotiations.

ONLY SHORT SUSPENSION, IF ANY.

Arrangements All Completed for the Meeting Next Thursday Between Operators and Miners—Business Men Confident There Will Be No Trouble—Neither Miners Nor Operators Anticipate a Strike.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., March 7.—Having completed arrangements so far as the miners' representatives are concerned, for the meeting between the operators of the United Mine Workers and the anthracite coal operators in Philadelphia next Thursday, for the purpose of making a new agreement between the men and their employers, Thomas L. Lewis, national president of the miners' organization, left Wilkes-Barre late Saturday for Philadelphia.

Independent Operators to Attend. Mr. Lewis will remain at national headquarters in Philadelphia until he reaches Philadelphia on Wednesday afternoon. He put in a busy day in this section, visiting Pittston and Hazleton for the purpose of convincing independent operators to take part in this week's conference. Mr. Lewis called upon W. J. L. Calk, president of the individual operators association, who extended him an invitation to attend the meeting and it was accepted. The meeting will be held at the Hotel Hamilton in New York three days ago, when the present three-year agreement was arranged. This agreement expires on March 31.

No Trouble Anticipated. There is a distinctly better feeling in the hard coal fields regarding the outcome of the negotiations. This is no doubt due to the cordial manner in which Mr. Lewis has been received by the presidents of the coal-carrying roads when he met them in New York and Philadelphia to arrange for a new agreement. Business men say that they feel there will be no trouble, and that they look for only a short suspension of work, if indeed, there is any stoppage in the mining of coal.

The business interests of the entire region are confident that a new three-year agreement in order to avoid an annual disturbance in business. Neither Mr. Lewis nor the operators in this section will discuss the situation in advance of the negotiations.

Bulk of the Miners Satisfied. New York, March 7.—Special to the Times from Scranton says: Neither miners nor operators in the anthracite regions anticipate a strike. The union leaders are satisfied with the existing agreement, and would regard it as a calamity if it were abrogated. The operators are said to be willing to renew it, although they assert that their profits under it are reduced to a minimum, and that any other agreement would reduce the profits that mining coal would be taken out of the category of a business proposition and relegated to that of a public philanthropic institution.

The Miners' Demands. The miners' demands in substance are: An eight hour day for all men and boys working in the mines, outside and inside. That all coal mined be paid for by weight. That the operators shall collect the dues paid by the miners to the union. That a check weighing book, selected by the union, be kept in each mine, and that the weight of coal shall be credited as to the miner in each car which he mines.

That only union men be employed. That the delegates of the union shall have free access to the property of the operators for the examination of cards, and so on.

Few Minor Grievances. There are minor grievances which they would like to see redressed, making for the safety of the miners, and to which even the operators can offer no reasonable objection. If these were presented independently of the cardinal demands, they would probably be granted readily.

JUMPED THREE STORIES TO SIDEWALK BELOW

And Was Instantly Killed—Driven from His Room by Fire.

New York, March 7.—Choosing between death by fire, which had driven him out of his bedroom room and to the narrow ledge of his window, and a jump of three stories to the sidewalk below, Dennis Redmond jumped and was almost instantly killed today.

When the fire broke out, Redmond was in his room. He tried to get out, but the door was locked. He jumped from the window, and was killed.
